

TENTH STREET MAY BE OPENED.

Borough Officials Go Over
the Proposed Lines This Morning.

THOROUGHFARE TO SCHOOL

Street Committee Goes Over Other Streets and North Pittsburg Street May Be Paved Between Main and Orchard Alley—Getting Ready For Tonight.

There was a gathering of the Borough Councilmen at the Public Building this morning, preparatory to going over all the streets in town and investigating conditions generally. The first and principal matter to be taken up was the opening of Tenth street. President Blair, Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg and a number of other members of the Council and Street Committee were on hand early to make the inspection trip.

It was a bad day but the members of Council decided to investigate anyhow and started out in the rain to go over the streets. The opening of Tenth street between Francis avenue and Murphy avenue was the all important matter discussed and it was decided that this street should be gone over first and the advisability of opening it passed upon, so that the report could be made at the meeting of the Council tonight. This matter has been long under discussion. Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg drew the plans for the opening of the street many months ago. To open it properly the street will have to pass through a strip on the hospital grounds. He accompanied the committee this morning with a view to explaining how and why the survey had been made. It is the only route that leads to the "Taird" wards school and it has been under discussion from time to time, the residents of that section claiming that there is no possible way by which their children can reach the school.

The repairing of North Pittsburg street between Main and Orchard alley is also under consideration and may be taken up at tonight's meeting. Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg stated that he could place a surveyor on the street at noon and by evening he would be able to tell the exact cost of paving this section of the thoroughfare.

Another important matter which will probably receive attention at tonight's meeting is the veto of the ordinance relating to Main street Penn avenue. Asked this morning what would be done with the veto, President Blair said that he did not know. He did not care to discuss the matter and appeared to take little interest in it, apparently being satisfied to have the street remain Main street. The Street Committee feels rather injured but its suggestion of Penn avenue should have been turned down by the survey and may make a fight to have the veto annulled.

Clerk A. D. Soliman is anxious to know what he shall do regarding the situation in the Greenwood and Sutherland additions and this morning inquired if Attorney E. C. Higbee had given his legal opinion. It developed that the attorney was out of town and that he had made no report regarding them.

The meeting tonight promises to be an interesting one.

BURSTING TANK PUTS OUT FIRE

The Buena Vista filtration plant of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at Buena Vista was set on fire by a locomotive spark yesterday afternoon and reduced to ashes. The big plant, which was used to prepare the water of the Youngbushen for boiler use, was surrounded by a tank holding 75,000 gallons of water and the first floor of the building contained large quantities of gasoline.

The villagers, forming a bucket brigade, fought the flames for some time but were unable to stop the fire until the tank collapsed, precipitating the scalding water it contained onto the flames, practically extinguishing them.

While the danger was greatest the school children, released from school, gathered about the burning structure. They had to be herded and driven a great distance from the fire. The town is without fire-fighting apparatus.

Going Slow.
Work on the new turnpike building is going slow owing to the lack of receiving material necessary.

Sportsmen Endeavoring to Dip Some Fish From the Yough.

Weather conditions as well as the water stage in the Yough being propitious for fishing a number of sportsmen this morning ventured their poles and went fishing. The favorite spot was about Connel Run.

It is reported that a number of good sized suckers were dipped up this morning. Some ardent sportsmen turned out this morning with a fishing line to hook the elusive fish of the Yough.

BELIEVE JOHNSON IS "BUGHOUSE."

Negro Who Has Been Traveling About Town Goes to Jail and May Go to Dismont.

Ernest T. Johnson, a negro, dilated upon the panoramic beauty of pretty views in police court this morning, and it is probable that he will go from the county jail to Dismont. Johnson was arrested for wandering aimlessly about the streets and is charged with being demented.

About a week ago he was arrested for wandering about the streets and seemed a bit "queer." It was thought, however, that he had been drinking and after serving a term he was released. The police have been watching for Johnson for some days. It is his custom to go to a house and ask for something to eat and after he gets it he then enters upon a long conversation. Every attempt to get him away from the house fails, and the majority of people who have given him food become frightened at his long stay and talkative ways.

Burgess Evans this morning decided to send him to jail where his mental condition can be ascertained.

Besides Johnson, only one drunk, presented himself for a hearing. The latter was held for 48 hours.

JEFFRIES BREAKS A LONG SILENCE

Is Mad? Clear Thorough and Takes Lid Off His Feelings by Challenge.

United Press Telegram.
NEW YORK, April 20.—Jeffries has broken his long silence. Tonight at the close of the performance at the American Music Hall he will announce to the New York public that he will meet the winner of the Stanley Ketchel-Jack Johnson fight next October for the world's championship. Lashed to fury by assertions that he is "bunching the public with no intention of ever again fighting," made by his old manager Billy Delaney, Jeffries took the lid off this morning. He was mad clear through when he talked and made it plain that he believed he is able to get in as good shape as when he cleaned up Jack Monroe, the last man he entered the ring with.

AMERICAN COMMANDER OF SULTAN'S NAVY; FLAGSHIP, AHMED RIZA AND FAMOUS MOSQUE

In the crisis in Turkey, while the Sultan's very throne is tottering, the man Abdul Hamid places most dependence in is an American, Ransford D. Bucknam, Admiral of the Turkish navy. The army is so divided that the monarch relies little upon it, but he has confidence in the navy and particularly in his high Admiral. Bucknam began life as a sailor on a merchantman. John D. Rockefeller met him and made him his captain of a Standard Oil ship. Later he entered the employ of the Crumpas, and when they built the cruiser Modigliani for the Turkish Government he was assigned to take the vessel to Constantinople. There the Sultan was so impressed with Bucknam that he made him a Vice Admiral. That was in 1902. "Bucknam Pasha" is now the head of the whole Turkish navy, the Sultan's right hand man. All Europe is in alarm and expects over the possibility of civil war in Turkey. It is believed that if the Sultan continues in withdrawal recognition of the constitution he will be forced to flee or may lose his life. If his navy and a part of his army stand by him, war can hardly be averted. Ahmed Riza, leader of the Young Turks, is gathering forces from all quarters of the empire.

URNS TO WAR LORD FOR HELP.

Sultan Seeks Germany in the Hour of Great Need.

TURKISH PRINCE ASSASSINATED

Wily Old Ruler Reported to be Trying to Save Off the Young Turks Who Have Demanded His Head, as the Only Basis for Settlement.

United Press Telegram.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Apr. 20.—Conditions today have not improved in this turbulent territory. The latest news from Smyrna is that Kemas Efendi, a Turkish prince of Samos, has been assassinated. The intelligence has caused the greatest excitement here, and it is reported that the Sultan has turned to Germany in his great hour of need, and is suing for assistance from the Kaiser to save his throne.

The Sultan is pleading on the grounds of past favors accorded Germany and it is believed that he has offered that country everything it asks in the future in the way of concessions if it will come to the Sultan's rescue.

The Sultan is also trying to induce Ahmed Riza to resume the grand viziership as a token to the Young Turks of his willingness to do anything they demand. Ahmed succeeded Kiamil Pasha as Grand Vizier, and held office until last week's uprising. He announces he will not resume his office until the Young Turks resume control of the government. Martial law is to be declared as soon as the Young Turks enter the city.

The latest reports say that Grand Vizier Tewfik Pasha has resigned and is now conferring at Yildiz Kiosk with the Sultan regarding the city's surrender. The abdication of the Sultan is now momentarily expected. Representative Young Turks are said to be at the palace awaiting the Sultan's decision.

Abdul Hamid is, however, desperate, trying to stave off his surrender to the young Turks until he hears from Berlin, which may take several days on account of the interrupted means of communication.

The leaders of the Young Turks have issued orders that the lives and property of all foreigners and Christians in Constantinople be adequately protected. When a committee of protection approached Mulltar Bey commanding the advance guard of Saliki, he gruffly asked them "Have you brought the head of the Old Man?" We cannot negotiate so long as you come without that head."

Discourages Spring Flowers. The weather man, chucked as he threw open the cold air pipe, and thought of the little onions and the spring flowers just evening. He had heard them on and now he would show them that they must not presume on his generosity.

BANKRUPT DISCHARGED.
James McGloin, former proprietor of the Yough House, and owner of the property, was yesterday discharged in bankruptcy by the United States court. Mr. McGloin was forced into bankruptcy by a number of impatient creditors and as it was his only relief at the time relinquished the proprietorship of the hotel.

He declares that he will be able to pay all his creditors in full and all obligations held against him will be satisfied. The management of the hotel is now in the hands of James Cawley, who is conducting it as receiver.

GOVERNOR'S STAFF INSPECTED.

Col. J. M. Reid of Connellville One of Them.
Hampton Battery E. N. G. P., Captain W. T. Rues, commanding, paraded five officers and 80 men, for the annual spring inspection at Pittsburg last evening, and made the best appearance that they have ever done. Members of the Governor's staff, of which Col. J. M. Reid of Connellville is one, were also present for inspection, and made a fine showing.

Discourages Spring Flowers. The weather man, chucked as he threw open the cold air pipe, and thought of the little onions and the spring flowers just evening. He had heard them on and now he would show them that they must not presume on his generosity.

In the northern part of Iowa, Mr. Blair says, that the timber is becoming exhausted, and coal, corn and wood are being shipped in for fuel. Where he was a farmer will take a load of corn to a sheller and return with a wagon load of cobs for which he pays a quarter.

When was selling when Mr. Blair left at $1.25, and on account of a shortness of the corn crop farmers are paying 67 cents a bushel for it for feeding stock, of which a great deal is raised there. Cattle weighing 1,200 pounds are easily sold at 6 1/2 cents in town on the hoof and the farmers are holding out for 7 cents, which indicates high priced beef. Hogs are selling at $7.50 per 100 pounds live. Eggs, of which a great many are sent into storage, stick at 17 cents a dozen. In general there is prospect for high priced foodstuffs.

Mr. Kitchin is greatly interested in coke, and Mr. Blair intends to send him some samples from the Connellville region. When informed that there are postal cards illustrating the different processes of coke making and with a bit of real coke glued to the card he said that they would solve his questions best and started out to buy some of the cards.

WILL HOLD BIG STEEL PROPERTY

U. S. Steel Corporation Will Not Rescind Buying of Tennessee Coal & Iron Company.

NEW YORK, April 20.—An effort to have the United States Steel Corporation rescind its purchase of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company and have the Directors take steps to rescind their action of more than a year ago failed at the annual meeting of stockholders held at Hoboken, N. J., yesterday.

The resolution was presented by J. Aspinwall Hodge, a stockholder, and was given consideration by E. H. Gary, Chairman of the Board, who presided. Hodge in presenting the resolution quoted ex-President Roosevelt as saying that Mr. Gary and Henry C. Frick had told him that the Steel Corporation would not have considered the purchase of the Tennessee company except for the purpose of relieving the stress of the war.

Judge Gary replied that while this might have been President Roosevelt's interpretation of the situation it was not quite correct. The Steel Corporation, he said, had considered the acquisition of the Tennessee company's property prior to that time, but the deal had fallen through. Eventually it was intended to buy the Tennessee company, but the immediate cause of the closing of negotiations was brought about by the unusual conditions then prevailing.

Discussing steel conditions Judge Gary said there had been a gradual and slow improvement, but prospects are bright.

When the first cut was made in prices there was no response from consumers and the buying movement did not start until they began to believe prices were near the cost of production. This buying has increased, and of the latter part of last year. He said it is not the object of the corporation to sell steel at cost, but expressed the belief that some steel interests were making little if any profit on orders taken on the basis of recent quotations.

DICK DUSHANE IS VISITING HOME PLACE

Son of Late Captain J. M. DuShane Among His Boyhood Friends Again.

James Dick DuShane, a son of the late Captain J. M. DuShane, is visiting relatives and friends in Connellville, after many years absence. Many of the older folks will remember Mr. DuShane, although it is upwards of a quarter of a century since he left Connellville. At the time his father's death it was impossible to reach him at his California station in time for the funeral, but immediately upon receiving word of Captain DuShane's death he set out to come here, arriving on Saturday.

Mr. DuShane was born and reared in Connellville and then took a course at Bucknell College. Shortly after graduating there he was appointed by the Government as a surveyor on the Mississippi and has continued in the Government service ever since, filling many important posts, and at the present time being engaged upon important work in California.

He will spend several weeks with his relatives here and also looking after the settlement of his father's estate, after which he will return to his work on the Pacific coast.

Mothers Day Coming.
"Mothers Day" will be observed more generally in churches and Sunday schools this year than heretofore. This year's observance will be on the second Sunday of May.

DRUNKEN BOYS CAUSE OF ARRESTS.

Fairchance Complaints Result in Investigation by County Detectives.

BEATS WIFE AND IS IN JAIL.

Says That She Needed It, But Denies That He Attempted to Cut Her Throat—The June Jury is Drawn this Morning.

UNIONTOWN, April 20.—As a result of an investigation following numerous complaints from the residents of Fairchance, that boys were receiving liquor in a surreptitious manner and becoming drunk, County Detectives McBeth and McLaughlin made an investigation into conditions and arrested Robert Lowe, charging him with the illegal sale of liquor, Andrew and Steve Kavelock, charged with selling liquor without license.

For the past several months boys about the town have been noticeably intoxicated and it was learned that they did not purchase the intoxicants from the bars. The county detectives were finally notified of the condition of affairs. It was learned that the foreigners are beer agents and that they have been scouring the goods and disposing of it to Lowe who paraded it out to the boys. The arrests were made by Constables Wood and Thomas and the accused men gave bail before Magistrate D. M. Brier of Uniontown.

Quincy Austin of Lehigh was arrested this morning and placed in jail, charged with assault and battery, which constitutes a charge of wife beating made by his wife. It is alleged by the woman that he knocked her down and then attempted to cut her throat with a razor. Austin does not deny that he struck the woman, and says in his defense that she needed it. He denies that he attempted to sever her jugular vein. He says that he returned home last evening and found that no supper had been prepared for himself and his children and that Mrs. Austin did not return until after 9 o'clock. He asked her where she had been and she refused to tell him. He then gave her a good beating.

Sheriff Peter A. Johns, Jury Commissioners Alex. Daugherty and Joseph Rankin this morning drew the names from the wheel for the June jury. The total number was 161, 24 grand jurors, 65 jurors for the first week; 72 for the second week, and 80 for the third week. Contrary to usual customs there will be one week of civil court at the June term and two weeks of criminal court.

MARATHON RUNNERS CAUGHT IN RAIN

Cover Fourteen Miles in Good Time Despite Bad Roads Last Evening.

With mud several inches deep and rain falling in torrents, the four local Italian Marathon runners, Joe Pagano, Tony Martin, Harry Fusco and L. Mario, made fast time over the 14-mile Everson-Connellville course yesterday afternoon. The runners were sent away at 4:30 by Joe Van Blum of Pittsburg, ex-middle distance champion, who officiated as starter. The runners arrived at Everson at 5:43 where they were checked by Eugene Carter of the Eureka House and sent off on the return trip at 5:40. Three heavy downpours of rain delayed the sprinters at Valley, Evansville and Moyer, but with all the interference, Mario and Pagano crossed the line at the Smith House at 7:03 making the run in 2:29. Martin finished at 7:32 and Fusco at 8:15.

As compared with the time made by Bruno Pannett in the Uniontown-Brownsville race, one hour and thirty-seven minutes, the time of the local runners looks slow, but it must be considered that the Everson-Connellville course is 14 miles and that at least a half hour was lost on account of rain.

Algure, Port and Strunge are training hard for the race at Marietta-Stillwagon park on Wednesday, April 28, and promise some fast work. Entries have been received from Pannett who won first, Strunge, who won second prize and Harry of Brownsville who finished third in the Uniontown race. More than 25 entries are now on file with Secretary Bufano and as many more are expected by the time the entries close Saturday evening.

The spacious auditorium was attractive with artistic arrangements of the lodge colors, red and white. Dancing commenced at 8:30 o'clock and was kept up until 2 o'clock this morning. Each and every hundred were played by those who cared not to dance. Music was furnished by Kirtley's orchestra and at midnight a dainty repast was served. The affair was well appointed in every detail and was a great success.

Guests were present from Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Mt. Pleasant, Uniontown and Greensburg.

STORM DIDN'T INTERFERE.

Large Gathering to Hear Rev. J. G. Slayter Last Night.

The audience at the Christian church last night was good sized when the facts that it was Monday night and that it stormed considerably.

Evangelist Slayter preached on faith from the text "Let Without Faith It is Impossible to Please God." The demand for faith on a basis in every life, the influence of faith on the life, and the object of faith, Jesus Christ, were points dwelt upon forcibly by the speaker.

The services continue each night of the week, except Saturday. A men's meeting was announced last evening to be held on next Sunday afternoon.

This For You.

There is only one way to obtain a clear, transparent and flawless complexion; massage treatment makes the flesh flabby, the so-called beauty creams containing oil or other greasy substances, fill up the pores of the skin, preventing them from doing their work properly, and also induce the growth of a fine, fuzzy hair on the face. If you would have a face entirely free from pimples, blotches, freckles, blackheads and kindred diseases of the skin, get the following prescription put up at any reliable Drug Store and your troubles will soon be over.

Cleavina one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces. Mix. Shake well and apply to the face night and morning allowing it to remain at least ten minutes the longer, the quicker results you will have. In extreme cases apply four or five times daily.

The flaky powder deposits on the face may be wiped off after a reasonable time. Do not use any soap, instead wash the face with oatmeal and a little powdered orris root tied up in a cheese cloth bag, and no matter how bad your face is, or what the cause may have been, this will surely cure it. This prescription is perfectly harmless and can be used on the most delicate skin.

May wheat went down to $1.25 1/2, the lowest since the sensational advance of two weeks ago, and more than three cents below the high figure for the crop.

MAXIMUS WILL TELL HIS SECRET

Strong Man at Solson Will Lecture Tomorrow—A Splendid Vaudeville Bill.

"Maximus the Great," who holds the vaudeville bill by which the Solson theatre is drawing so many people this week, strolled into The Courier office this morning, and performed a few feats of strength. This strong youth wears a hat and hair and dark clothes that makes him look like Elbert Hubbard, and his muscles that remind one of the picture of Sampson in the family Bible. Maximus took two decks of playing cards, laid one deck on top of the other, and broke the two decks into two parts. The cards were left on the desk just as they were laid down, as an evidence of good faith to all those doubting Thomases that might come in. That is only one trick, but if you think it is an easy one pick on your own deck and see how many cards you can tear at once. Maximus is strong, and he ought to be, for his muscles are like chunks of iron and make knots that you might hang your hat on. Tonight he will pull against two horses. He allows a bank wagon to run over his chest. If some people are in it that adds interest to the affair both for Maximus and the people. He was hurt one time by trying this feat, which should prove that he is alive. Some people always cry "take" when anything is done that they can't do and hint that the performer is some kind of mannikin. He lifts 235 pounds with one arm over his head. He lifts 500 pounds with his teeth and he allows boys to grasp his long locks and whirls them around like a flying jenny. He weighs 210 pounds, but is so well proportioned that he does not appear a large man. His act last night was enthusiastically applauded. Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 he will give a lecture on "How To Be Strong."

Elmo, a magician, accompanied by a beautiful colt dog that won the admiration and affection of everyone, gave an interesting and original act. Bernard and Harris, polite singers and dancers, gave a turn that pleased everyone judging from the applause that they received. The Western Sisters are particularly clever in a singing and dancing turn, and wound up with a boxing bout that brought them back again. Francis Wood is an expert hoop manipulator and does some extraordinary feats with the hoops. The house was packed and every seat was top notch and received the most flattering applause.

REPRESENTATIVE C. F. SCOTT, WHO WOULD STOP WHEAT CORNERS

Representative Charles F. Scott of Kansas, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, has introduced a bill in Congress to stop trading in futures on farm products. He declares that the practice of option and future trading, as in the case of the Patent wheat corner, artificially advances and depresses prices and thus up millions of dollars which might be invested in productive enterprises. It is not the purpose of his bill to hinder legitimate speculation. He believes that margin dealing is one of the greatest evils in our commercial system.

FOR TWO POLICE ALARM LIGHTS.

The Scottdale Town Council Considers Means of 'Added Efficiency.'

Called Meeting Last Night

Main Business Was Settling With Homestead Construction Company For Paving Arthur Avenue—Municipal Park Is To Be Paved—Sewer Matters Up.

SCOTSDALE, April 20.—It may be that this town will have a still further improvement in the police service if a suggestion that was made informally to the Town Council at its special meeting last night is carried out. The idea was advanced by William Butler of the Fourth ward, after A. G. Trimble had been suggesting it to several of the members, that a light be installed on Pittsburg street as a call for the police. At present the people must run for the police and if anyone away from Pittsburg street telephones in for the officers it is necessary to "hunt around for them, as it is natural that they cannot remain in one spot all the time. The plan advanced is to have two large pilot lights erected on Pittsburg street, one red and the other blue, the red one for the Bell Telephone and the blue one for the Pittsburg State. When a call comes in the operator for whichever phone the call comes over throws a switch and turns on the light. The police are usually along the street, they see the light and answer on the proper phone, and get in direct communication with the parties calling for them. The plan would greatly increase the efficiency of the force, and should increase the business of the telephone companies so that concessions should be secured in installing the plan.

The meeting last night was for settling a settlement with the Homestead Construction Company who have completed the paving of Arthur avenue. There were 1,251 cubic yards of excavating, 412.5 square yards of paving, and 3,126.1 lineal feet of curbing on the street. A motion was passed that the Street Committee, Borough Engineer and Secretary be authorized to negotiate the bill for settlement with the contractor. This brought forth discussion of the duties and liabilities of committees, and the members expressed themselves as believing that each committee should perform its duties until any certain work was entirely completed, and that they should use their judgment in dealing with questions that would arise and that they were satisfied with the families with that the other members. This came in on account of some of the members inquiring how far their rights were in dealing with some matters referred to them, and the statement that they would not want to be turned down if they should go ahead and do certain things without putting the matter before Council.

The Municipal park will now become a thing of the past. It is a piece of the street fronting the Greenwald property which was not curbed or paved when the street was improved. C. M. Greenwald has offered to put in the curbing. It is reported, if Council will pave the strip left unpaved, a very long petition from people along that street to have the park paved came in not long ago. It was informed that the Street Committee to have the Homestead Construction Company pave the strip.

They were allowed to remove their steam roller before the Street Committee got busy and engaged them to roll the rocky end of Pittsburg street, now was brought up by Councilman J. W. Fitzsimmons sometime ago, who wanted the street put in drivable shape while the roller was here. The thoroughfare is built of broken stones, which have no dirt on them and which makes a road that excites both ridicule and anger among those who are compelled to use it. Mr. Fitzsimmons and some other members of Council wanted the road finished while the steam roller was here, and Mr. Gould was ready to do this. The golden opportunity is now gone.

All the members were present but Mr. Fitzsimmons. President W. H. Sleighter did not come in after the meeting had begun. L. R. Elieker was first elected temporary chairman but did not have his glasses. William Butler tried to help him out with his but they would not work, and Mr. Elieker called M. L. Hennes to the chair, and the meeting was soon in running order. Informal discussion was had over the matter of some lack of sewers in Uniontown, or rather where people failed to tap into sewers. The compelling of them to get in connection with the sewers seems to be up to the Board of Health in the opinion of Council. Plans for a display on Baxter avenue were made and this matter will be discussed at the next meeting. Councilman Brown wants to take up the paving of Fourth avenue at the next meeting and he and William Butler from that ward advanced some strong reasons for their street coming in, and the Fourth ward

TODAY DECIDES SULTAN'S FATE.

The Army of Young Turks Is Surrounding the Capital.

PANIC REIGNS IN YILDIZ KIOSK

Abdul Hamid's Entourage Flee From Palace and All Signs Point to Enforced Abdication and Enthronement of a New Ruler.

Constantinople, April 20.—Racon-nolting parties sent out from here report the near approach of the constitutional forces. It is expected that by this evening or tomorrow morning the city will be in their hands. They could, were they so disposed, take immediate possession, but they have chosen to move leisurely, gathering in numbers as they approach the capital.

The headquarters of the constitutionalists' army is at Döğüşçü, and General Mustafa's forces, which now number between 20,000 and 30, 000, occupy a range of hills about twenty miles from the capital.

An important feature of the situation in the Turkish capital is the report that Sultan Abdul Hamid has abdicated. A rumor of the flight of the sultan on a warship followed closely on that of his abdication, but neither could be confirmed.

The abdication of Abdul Hamid,
however, appears not to be improbable, and it is believed that within a few days the constitutionalists may accept as their successor Prince Yusuf Izzeddin, the eldest son of the late sultan, who is second in line, as they are strongly displeased with Abdul Hamid's attitude.

Business of all kinds is practically suspended and the civil and military officials appear paralyzed.
Throughout last night there was great excitement at the Yıldız Kiosk. Everybody remained awake and many attendants fled, fearing an attack upon the palace, which is situated on the heights outside the city and is exposed to a coup de main, without the necessity of entering the city.
The consensus of opinion is that if the abdication of the sultan is brought about his overthrow and the proclamation of his successor will be accomplished peacefully.

POPE DENOUNCES ENEMIES.

Daniel's Love of Church Impairs Love of Country.

Rome, April 20.—The pope, responding to an address of French pilgrims, thanked the pilgrims for their devotion and exhorted them to remain united.
The pontiff denied vigorously that the church desired the faithful to become members of their country. On the contrary, he said that love of country was stronger when it was united with devotion to the church. He declared that no government could claim separation or love if it warred against truth. Continuing, he said:

"To politicians who declare war on the church, to sectarians who do not cease to calumniate with a hatred worthy of hell; to the false paladins of science who try to render her odious by sophism, and to accusations that she is an enemy of liberty, civilization and intellectual progress, I reply boldly that the Catholic church is the mistress of souls, the queen of hearts and the dominator of the world because she is the wife of Christ. The depository of truth, she only can bring back the people to veneration and love."

COLBERTS FOUND GUILTY

Of Attempting to Bribe Juror in Pittsburg Graft Case.

Pittsburg, April 20.—"Guilty as indicted" was the verdict rendered by the jury against John and Charles Colbert, brothers, charged with attempting to bribe a juror prior to the coun-tine graft trials last February.
The Colbert brothers were convicted on all three counts of the indictment against them. The maximum penalty on each count is two years' imprisonment and a fine of $500. They are out on $1,000 bail and no effort was made to have the amount increased. A motion for a new trial will be made.

The Colberts are alleged to have offered $100 to Benjamin F. Carpenter of Tarentum to influence him as a prospective juror in behalf of A. A.
Vilcek, a former banker, who pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of bribery in connection with the depository deal.

NO DIVORCE NECESSARY

Mrs. Eleanor McKelvey of New Castle, Pa., Found Dead at Detroit.

on the streets from carbolic acid poisoning has been identified as that of Mrs. Eleanor McKelvey of New Castle, Pa.

who had been living here for three weeks under the name of Miss Blanche Cameron, committed suicide. Her husband, Daniel P. McKelvey, was said to be seeking a divorce from her and ne-

REMARKABLE WOMAN NEARLY REACHES 100

Mrs. Mary Jane Reeves of Rostraver Township Never Saw an Auto
or Street Car.

Mrs. Mary Jane Reeves, widow of Samuel Reeves, is dead at the family home in Rostraver township, West moreland county, at the age of 97 years. As "Aunt Polly" she was known to almost every man, woman and child in Rostraver township. She was born in Rostraver and was on a railroad train but once in her life, some 20 years ago, when she made a trip to Shick, Pa., on the Pennsylvania's Rostraver branch, to see a brother. She never saw a street car or an automobile. Mr. Reeves died in 1895.

Until about three years ago Mrs.
Reeves could read, and when her second sight failed she greatly enjoyed having someone to read to her. She kept posted on what was going on and had a remarkable memory, particularly for names and faces. She was the mother of three children, Captain John S. Reeves, who served in the war of the Rebellion, and Elizabeth, both now deceased, and Mrs. Robert Ross, at whose home she died. Four grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren survive. Mrs. Reeves was related to probably every family in Rostraver township, one of the largest in West moreland county. Four sisters and one brother also survive her: Mrs.
Margaret Cox, of Texas; Mrs. Caroline Hilly, of Independence, Mo.; Samuel Snook, of Shick, Pa., and Mrs.
Sarah Douglas, of West Newton. Mrs.
Reeves was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Belvoir, son for 30 years.

GOODWIN WILL FILED FOR RECORD

Estate Is Valued at $5,000, and Paper Making Its Distribution Is Finally Filed.

UNIONTOWN, April 20.—After a citation to produce the document had been issued, the will of the late James H. Goodwin, Sr., of Nicholson township, was filed for probate with the register and recorder. Considerable interest attaches to this estate because of the trouble between Dr.
James H. Goodwin, a son, and his wife, heard a few months ago in the local courts on a desertion and non-support charge.

At the time of the hearing it was

The

Typewriter

The fact that The Smith Premier Typewriter is used in every civilized country on the globe is not so important as the further fact that the demand increases year after year.

The reputation of The Smith Premier is worldwide. World-wide use has made it so.

THE SMITH PREMIER TYPEWRITER CO., 319 Third Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

claimed by Mrs. Goodwin that her husband had an interest in his father's estate, but that the will was being withheld to protect him. The testator died June 8, 1908. According to the figures in the application for probate made by the executor, Charles Porter Goodwin, another son, the estate is worth $1,000 in personal property and $4,000 in real estate.

Dr. Goodwin was married during his college career in Philadelphia, fifteen years ago. For some years his wife has been endeavoring to secure adequate support from him, as the two separated just after the marriage.
There is a daughter about 14 years old.

Under the will probated the entire estate goes to the widow, Sarah Jane Goodwin, for life. At her death the estate is to go in equal shares to the children living. There are four children, Ruth, Anna, James R., Sarah Ellen and Charles Porter Goodwin.
A special bequest of a spring cot is made to James P. Goodwin, a grandson. The will was written May 18, 1908, three weeks before the testator died. The witnesses are Dr. John A.
Barton and Attorney T. P. Jones.

The citation to produce the will was issued out of Orphans Court on April 7, with instructions to file the document within 15 days.

Among a number of orders of distribution handed down yesterday was that in the case of the late Percy B.
Cochran of Uniontown. A net estate of $15,522.05 goes to the father, M. M.
Cochran.

PASTOR'S HOME BURNED

He Had Been Threatened and Suspects an Incendiary.

Ashtabula, O., April 20.—The home of the Rev. William Williamson, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church, has burned. The pastor and his daughter barely escaped with their lives.
Williamson thinks the fire was incendiary. He was threatened some time ago because of differences with his congregation. The Williamsons saved nothing.

TENDERED A SURPRISE.

George R. Speer Given a Delightful Entertainment by S. S. Class.

TAKES, April 20.—What proved to be a very pleasant social gathering was a surprise party given in honor of George R. Speer, at his home on Monday evening. The S. S. class of his Sunday School class of the Mt. Lebanon M. E. Church. The class, which was organized some four months ago, consists of about 25 young ladies, who planned the affair and carried it out very successfully. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner in the playing of various parlor games.
At a late hour a dainty luncheon was served which was prepared by the young ladies. So successfully did they carry out their plans that it came as a great surprise to their teacher. Before taking their departure for the evening Mr. Speer was presented with a handsome silk umbrella. W. O. Tarr making the presentation in behalf of the class. The recipient responded in a few well chosen words in which he thanked the class, lighting to them the fact that in the present which they had selected that it carried with it a lesson other than that of the fact that the umbrella would protect the teacher from the elements of the weather.
The lesson being that they were to look to him, who is the Great protector of all. In arranging the affair a number of the young men were invited.
Those present were: Messrs. Martin
Baker, John M. Baker, Edna C. Fox,
Margaret and Bertha Wharton, Bertha Buttermore, Beulah Sherrow, Lizzie
Scott, Ethel Bryles, Cora Hersberger, marked interest to the church. The organization of a Flower Committee, whose duty it is to keep the pulpit surrounded with cut flowers, being among the work.

INDIGESTION

Causes Nervous Prostration, And
General Ill Health—Banished
By Mi-o-na.

Indigestion has always caused more nervousness than any other ailment.
If you have indigestion, you don't get all the nutriment out of your food that you should.

Your worn out stomach passes the food on without extracting enough nutritious substance to supply the blood and nerves.

And if the nerves are not supplied with nourishment, they begin to rebel.
They kick up a great disturbance.
They make you irritable and cranky.
You worry about trifles, and you cannot sleep soundly at night, you have bad dreams, and you get up in the morning unrefreshed.

Try Mi-o-na tablets, the money back cure. Mi-o-na will cure your nervousness by driving out the cause, Mi-o-na will give you relief the first day. It will cure acute cases in a few days,
and chronic cases in a few weeks.
Baldness of eye, heartburn, sour taste of food, waterbrash, foul breath and other dyspeptic symptoms vanish
before the mighty power of Mi-o-na.

Try Mi-o-na. A. A. Clarke sells it and thinks so well of it that he will refund your money if it doesn't cure,
and only 50 cents a large box.

Mi-o-na sold in every town in America.

Have you ever tried Booth's Laxative Pills for constipation? They act with comfort and satisfaction. 25 cents a box.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, April 19.—Wheat prices on the board of trade broke from 1 1/4 to 2 3/4 cents today owing to general selling based to some extent on unexpectedly liberal exports of wheat last week from Russia. The market closed at almost the bottom at net losses of 1/2 to 2 1/4. The corn market was exceptionally strong at times, and both the May and July deliveries advanced to new high record marks for the sesson, 7 1/4, being the top point reached for the May option. Oats and prorions closed steady. May options closed: Wheat, 127; corn, 70 3/4 @ 70 1/2; oats, 55 1/2.

TARIFF BUILDERS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Sends More Delegations to Washington Than Any Other State.

CATTLEMEN AMONG INTERESTED

Surprises Some Members of Committee—Lumber Legislation Stirs Many.
Penrose is the Man That The Industrial Interests Are Looking To For a Fair Deal.

Special Correspondence.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The United States Senate has been industriously at work for nearly two weeks and has so arranged matters that prompt action will be taken on the various confining features of the new tariff bill as they arise. The Senate is known to be acting in harmony with President Taft on the tariff schedules and the bill to be finally enacted into law will be a reform measure in keeping with the pledges made by the Republicans in the last presidential campaign. The Democrats are hopelessly divided on the tariff question. Recently it has been made apparent that the Democratic party leaders in many of the Democratic states are high tariff men and many of these representatives in the Senate are disposed to help the Republicans in drafting a bill which will have little or no party bias, but will best guard the interests of the whole country. Such a bill is likely to come from the Senate when the work of that distinguished body is completed.

Already business conditions are improving, this improvement being based on the confidence that Republican policies will be liberally injected into the proposed tariff measure. The fears of the recent financial and commercial disturbances are disappearing. When the disturbances came business generally was suspended. There was no overproduction and as a consequence there is no overabundant market now. Business prosperity will come with a rush when it finally comes and there are distinct signs that that time will not be long delayed.

The tremendous interest of Pennsylvania in tariff legislation is indicated by the fact that that state has sent to Washington a larger number of delegations to appear before the Finance committee than any other state. Pennsylvania is directly concerned with nearly every important schedule of the bill and the hearings have opened the eyes of some of the senators to the diversity of her industries. For instance, Pennsylvania is not generally classed as a cattle-raising state and when the Finance committee began its hearings some of the members of the committee expressed surprise that this state was so deeply interested in the proposition to place hides on the free list. The hearings disclosed the fact that a vast amount of capital is invested in the live stock and tanning industries in Pennsylvania. The reports of the bureau of animal industry, agricultural department, show that last year Pennsylvania butchered at its own abattoirs under federal inspection for interstate commerce nearly 800,000 head of cattle in addition to the cattle slaughtered by farmers for their own consumption and by butchers for the local market. On Jan. 1 last the live stock of Pennsylvania were valued at nearly $4,000,000. Local butchers, as well as packers, buy cattle for what they can get out of what they sell, and this applies to the hide as well as to any other part of the animal.

It is roughly estimated that the green hide of a steer is worth from $3 to $10 and that of a cow from $2 to $5. The farmers of Pennsylvania have joined with the farmers of other states in demanding a continuance of the present duty on hides, 15 per cent. The tanners insist that hides be taken from the dutiable list in order that they may purchase them in the markets of Argentina, Mexico, Canada and other great foreign cattle-producing countries. Pennsylvania is one of the greatest tanning states in the Union. In one congressional district of this state there are twenty-one large tanneries. The Finance committee is hearing both sides of the controversy relative to the removal of the duty.

The reduction of the duty on lumber, about 50 per cent from the rate of the Dingley bill, has also taken to Washington many delegations from the Keystone State. There is a widespread demand, principally from the western states, for the removal of the duty. The Pennsylvania lumbermen are fighting for the retention of the Dingley duties. The independent oil producers in every oil field have been urging that a specific duty of at least 25 per cent on crude oil be substituted for the countervailing duty proposed in the Payne bill. The independent iron and steel manufacturers are protesting vigorously against the proposed reduction of about 40 per cent in iron and steel products. The glass manufacturers of Western Pennsylvania and the great textile industries of Philadelphia have submitted convincing arguments in support of their demands for protection from foreign competition.

Senator Penrose is the man upon whom the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania are depending to insure them fair treatment in the revision of the tariff rates. The senator is a member of the Finance committee and chairman of a sub-committee of that body to which nearly all of the schedules in which Pennsylvania is interested have been referred. Since the day the tariff bill was reported to the House he has been one of the busiest men in the Senate. Every delegation from the Keystone State has consulted him and arranged with him for a hearing. He has also received by mail a great mass of facts relative to the effect of tariff legislation upon Pennsylvania's industries.

Mr. Penrose is devoting practically all of his time to the tariff bill. He is recognized as one of the tariff experts of Congress. The Payne bill is the second tariff measure he has assisted in preparing. Mr. Penrose entered the Senate March 4, 1897, and two weeks later President McKinley summoned Congress to an extra session to enact tariff legislation. The result was the repeal of the Wilson-Gorman Democratic tariff law and the enactment of the Dingley bill. While that measure was pending Senator Penrose began an exhaustive investigation of the tariff system. This work he has continued and today he is more familiar with the tariff schedules directly affecting the labor and capital of Pennsylvania than any other man in the country. It was largely because of his familiarity with tariff legislation that he was selected for membership on the Finance committee.

Senator Penrose is deeply interested in his work. He has given every delegation that has called on him the fullest opportunity to submit its arguments and he is thoroughly conversant with the revision of the various schedules from every viewpoint. His object is to favor the kind of revision that will conform with present conditions in the industrial and commercial world, and at the same time provide the maximum protection for labor and capital. The senator is one of the strongest protectionists in Congress and he does not believe in experimental tariff legislation that is not based upon the sound doctrine of protection. He confidently predicts that Congress will enact a tariff bill that will provide the government with sufficient revenues without disturbing the economic conditions under which the greatest industries of Pennsylvania and the country have grown great. He insists that in considering the proposed revision of the Dingley bill the effect of such revision upon the wages of labor in this country of dominant importance and he will oppose any reduction that might lower the standard of wages of the American working man.

Senator Penrose's friends are highly gratified over the splendid record he is making as a member of the Finance committee.

MRS. BARTON LOSES SUIT.

Jury Finds That She Deserved Her Husband.

New York, April 20.—Mrs. Fanny Burke Roche-Batony, daughter of Frank Roche, the millionaire, lost in her suit for divorce against Aurel Batony, the well-known horseman and four-in-hand whip.

The much delayed case came to an unexpected end before Justice Phelan. W. M. K. O'Leary, attorney for Mrs. Batony, withdrew from the case after Justice Phelan refused to grant him a further delay. The court ordered the jury to answer in the negative to all the charges of improper conduct made against Batony by his wife, and left it to the jury to decide whether or not Mrs. Batony deserted her husband. The jury returned with the verdict that the wife did desert her husband.

Candidates for Two Important Offices.

PLEDGES ARE ALL REDEEMED

Not in the Last Quarter of a Century Has Existed Such Unity in Republican Ranks—Legislators Talked of For Auditor General and State Treasurer.

Special Correspondence.

PITTSBURG, April 20.—What proved beyond all question to be the sunniest and most sensible session of the Pennsylvania Legislature held in a quarter of a century adjourned on April 15. The Republican managers or leaders of the state have just reason for real pride in the work of the session. When it began United States Senator Penrose and State Chairman W. R. Andrews joined in a pledge to their party that it would be short, regular in every detail and just beyond discrimination. In brief, fair play and a square deal was guaranteed to every interest in the state, and when the hour for closing was reached Democrats, Prohibitionists, Anti-Saloonists and Republicans joined in a jubilation chorus, declaring that every pledge made by the Republican leaders had been redeemed.

The work of the session has left the great Republican organization just where it belongs in the state. Its pledges have been fulfilled, the disturbing elements within its ranks have been pacified and the party as a whole is now enjoying harmony in a degree greater than that known for years. The policies and principles of the party are more firmly rooted in the Keystone State than for twenty-five years, and the party disturbers of other years being left without standing room for complaints, the party faces the future with assurance and confidence. All branches of the state government are now in the hands of the Republican party, just as they should be, and the indications are that in facing the Democrats in future contests there will be no guerrilla warfare carried on in the rear of the majority party.

Within a comparatively short time the Republican party will hold state convention to name candidates for auditor general and state treasurer. The indications are that these candidates will be named solely for their fitness for the public duties they are to discharge. Republicans from every section of the state will assemble at the coming convention and all will have a voice in selecting the candidates. Several names have already been suggested for the two important places, State Senators James O. Luzerne, Crawford of Allegheny and Elson of Erie have been discussed as possible candidates for auditor general. Representative R. R. Kloss of Leominster county has also been referred to as a probable candidate for that office.

There are no avowed candidates for the nomination for state treasurer. However, the friends of Senator James O. Luzerne have been working industriously to have Senator Crawford of Allegheny stand for this nomination. Senator Crawford is a banker of experience and capacity, and it is contended that he is best fitted for that position. In point of service Senator Crawford divides honors in the senate with Senator Sprout of Delaware. Each has served three four-year terms and it is hinted that Mr. Sprout is trimming his wings so as to be able to fly into the governorship when the selection of a successor to Governor Stuart is made. Some weeks ago the Erie county delegation in the Legislature started a motion for Senator Sprout for governor. The motion was not without an earnest following, but just before the adjournment Mr. Sprout was visited by some of the senatorial leaders and proffered support for the auditor generalship should he enter that contest. Senator Crawford was also tendered the nomination for auditor general. Such an honor is a rarity in the Allegheny county delegation.

When United States Senator George T. Oliver announced his candidacy after the proposed retirement from the Senate of P. C. Knox was made known the Allegheny county delegation unanimously endorsed Mr. Oliver as Mr. Knox's successor. That was the first time in a quarter of a century in which the Allegheny county delegation had acted as a unit on anything. That harmonious effort seems to have grown into a habit with the Allegheny county Republicans, and their unanimous and generous endorsement of Senator Crawford for the Republican nomination for auditor general is certain to have considerable influence in the coming state convention.

COMPRESSED AIR SURPASSES STEAM.

The Mining Institute at Scottsdale Reaches That Conclusion.

A BANQUET WAS SERVED

P. P. Glenn Discusses the Topic and Makes Some Suggestions That Meet With Approval—A Valuable Talk For All Interested in Mining Work.

The mining institute of the Elwell-Hunt Mining District, held at Scottsdale Saturday, in the Y. M. C. A., was well attended. The subject for discussion was "What Advantages Does Compressed Air Have Over Steam in Mining Operations?" The institute was opened by President of the institute J. L. Robbins, who has been with the Keister interests at Franklin works for 25 years, after which there was a general discussion of the subject, which brought about the decision that compressed air was far the best and cheaper.

At 8:30 a banquet was served and a fine musical program was rendered by the Simpson Brothers' Y. M. C. A. orchestra. Following is the address given by Mr. Glenn before the institute: "Mr. President and Gentlemen of the institute: In opening the subject stated by the Chairman for discussion this evening I believe I should examine our remarks to coal mining operations and having that in my mind I will now discuss the subject of compressed air in the coal mines, (mainly taken from the writings of recognized mining authorities) shall be along that line. The most expensive and difficult operation in the production of coal is the process of loading its solid state and this is accomplished in three ways. First, by blasting it from the solid as is done in the Connelville region. Second, by undercutting for blasting. Third, by shearing (either in the center or on the rib, and shooting to the surface). This method is used in many bituminous mines where there is a strong roof, and where the run of mine basis is used. This is of course some interesting of these methods, as in some mines they both undercut and shear in order to protect a tender roof, and to get a large proportion of lump coal, for where the coal is both undercut and sheared on one rib it can be brought down with a very light charge of powder. In some cases no powder at all is used, and the coal wedged down after being undercut and sheared.

Many machines have been constructed to undercut and shear coal, and they are now so perfect as to meet the various requirements found in the different coal fields that it may safely be said that compressed air coal cutting machines will in the future do the greater part of coal cutting. The most successful of these machines may be divided into two classes, those which act per se and cut with a single large cutter, and those which cut with a series of steel teeth. The second class is subdivided into four classes, one of which may cut on a large cylinder of coal, and which is used almost exclusively for driving headings. One of these machines named, "the Stanley head," can cut on a cylinder of bituminous coal four feet in diameter, and five feet in length in 15 minutes, and by making the necessary allowances for removal, a rate of advance equal to 75 feet per shift of 10 hours is accomplished. When it is necessary to drive wide entries, two machines may be worked, side by side, thus driving two parallel entries which nearly intersect each other. The thin pillar left between them can easily be cut with a pick. If the coal could be removed as quickly as the cutting is done, the machine could advance an entry 12 feet wide, 25 feet in 10 hours. As coal varies so much in hardness, and in the amount of impurities it contains, it is possible to give only an approximation of the cost of driving entry with the Stanley head, which is about 25 cents per linear foot when a single cylinder four feet in diameter is cut out, operated by compressed air.

"Compressed air is much used as a motive power in place of steam for driving engines, pumping, and ventilating purposes, also for undercutting machinery and drilling. The principal use of air compressor depends upon the fact that when any given volume of air is compressed in a certain ratio, the absolute pressure or tension of the air is increased in the same ratio, in which the volume is decreased when the temperature remains the same. The compression of air, however, causes a rise of temperature in the air compressed, which increases the pressure in a greater ratio than that just given. In practice this increase of temperature is a detriment, owing to the late cooling, and consequent loss of pressure in the transmission of the air to the point where it is to be used. Air compressors are designed therefore to maintain the temperature as nearly constant as possible during the compression.

"The power is applied to an engine in the use of compressed air, in the same manner as in the use of steam, steam engines are often operated as an air engine with but a slight arrangement of the valves. The advantages of compressed air over steam, especially in the case with which the power is transmitted to the working face. The losses due to the condensation of steam and the radiation of heat in a long pipe line are avoided where compressed air is used. In case of a break occurring in the pipe line, there is no danger of scalding workmen or animals, and the air exhausted from the cylinders of the machines on the route or at the working face, is a benefit instead of being a hindrance, as is the case with exhaust steam. In the use of compressed air the power loss in transmission and compression can be retarded, wholly or in part, by reheating the air. In mine haulage compressed air motors possess the advantage over steam locomotives in that they require no fire; do not contaminate the air of the mine by gases of combustion, or run any risk of igniting the mine gases. In haulage the required pressure are necessarily high, ranging from 500 to 1,000 pounds pressure gauge. In this work compound compressors are better adapted, because where air is compressed in two, three, or four stages, a high pressure can be attained with a comparatively small range of temperature in the compressor cylinder, and the result is a greater saving of power.

"Drilling and cutting machines, and pumps are generally operated under pressure ranging from 60 to 100 pounds per square inch. Air motors are designed for high pressure up to 150 pounds per square inch at the throttle, the tank pressure varying from 600 to 800 pounds, while a pipeline pressure varying from 600 to 1,000 pounds per square inch is commonly used in main haulages. It is good practice to provide a pipe line of sufficient size to pass the required volume of air at a velocity varying from 20 to 50 feet per second, and not to exceed 60 feet per second for good results.

WIDOW AND CHILDREN

Mourn Fate of Husband and Father at Ada, Oklahoma.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 20.—While he bore the reputation of a "bad man," J. B. Miller of Fort Worth, one of the four men lynched at Ada, Okla., was popular among the best class of citizens. His widow and three children are held in high esteem.

Reports vary as to the number of men Miller killed, estimates placing it anywhere from ten to thirty. Most of his victims were either cattle thieves or men whom he shot in self-defense. He was one of the last of the old-time Texas cattle kings, among whom it was a custom to use the six-shooter in defense of personal property rights.

Dyrrrell, another of the four lynched, while his home was at Duncan, Okla., had many relatives in Texas. A brother and his mother live at Weatherford. He owned many cattle. Joseph Allen and Jesse West of Canadian, Tex., were wealthy and owned large tracts of land and numerous herds of cattle. There was an old feud existing between these two men and former United States Marshal Bobbitt and years ago, it is said, Bobbitt shot Allen and West to flee from Texas because of alleged highway robbery and cattle thefts.

Byrrell and Miller were both arrested in Texas following Bobbitt's death.

TO PROSECUTE LYNCHERS

Governor Haskell Orders an Official Investigation of Affair.

Guthrie, Okla., April 20.—Governor Haskell declares that those implicated in the Ada lynching would be punished to the full extent of the law if identified. An official investigation, it is announced, will be made.

Adjutant General Canton said that to his personal knowledge J. B. Miller, one of the men lynched, had killed thirteen men in Texas and that he had always escaped punishment. Bobbitt had been in fear of assassination for years and one of the provisions of his will set aside $1,000 to prosecute his assassins should be most death at their hands.

CRAG OUT ON BAIL

Coroner's Jury Speaks Good Word For Wronged Husband.

Altamora, Pa., April 20.—The coroner's jury in the case of J. E. Craig, charged with killing Edward Russell, rendered a verdict that "death was caused by a gunshot wound by a revolver in the hands of John B. Craig in self-defense while protecting the honor of his home."

A writ of habeas corpus was immediately applied for by Craig's counsel and he was released on $2,000 bail for trial.

Craig went home unexpectedly and found his wife and Russell together and in the light which followed Craig shot Russell.

FOUR WHITE MEN HANGED BY MOB.

Enraged Men Takes Them From Jail at Ada, Oklahoma.

ACCUSED OF BOBBITT MURDER

Boy Who Turned State's Evidence Not Molested—Guard at Jail Makes Feeble Resistance—One of Mob's Victims Gives Presents.

Ada, Okla., April 20.—Two hundred citizens of Ada took from jail and hanged four wealthy landowners for the murder of Deputy United States Marshal A. L. Bobbitt. The lynched men were J. B. Miller, Fort Worth, Tex.; B. B. Byrrell, Duncan, Okla.; Jesse West and Joseph Allen of Canadian, Tex.

The lynchers shut off the electric street lights, cut telephone communication and quickly gathered near the jail. When all had assembled a large mob swarmed out of the darkness and said: "Are you all ready?" A confused buzzing was the only answer. The men silently made their way toward the jail.

They had scarcely started before they met County Attorney Robert Winbush, who had received word that the mob was forming. The crowd stopped at his request.

Attorney Winbush said: "Men of Ada, you are disgracing this community in the eyes of the world. Think this matter over calmly and let the law take its course. I appeal to you as an officer of the law to return to your homes."

The mob, without a word, proceeded on its way. The attorney attempted again to talk to them. "This is no time for speeches," said the leader, and the march continued.

Doomed Men Taken From Jail. A high board fence surrounding the jail was partly thrown down, and the crowd entered the inclosure. The leader advanced and pounded on the jail door. Only Guard McCarthy was on duty.

"McCarthy," said the leader, "open this door at once. We mean business. Hurry, it's nearly daylight."

"You might as well go home, boys," responded the officer, "this door will never be opened from this side."

Three of the mob threw themselves against the door and the mob rushed in. Guard McCarthy was knocked senseless with a revolver butt. The four prisoners were quickly taken out, although West fought desperately.

"If you're going to hang me, do it quick," said Miller.

The mob led the four men to a barn a few hundred feet away and stood them in a straight line. "Tell us what you desire to know about Bobbitt's murder," shouted the mob leader.

West answered for the four, saying: "We don't know who you men are and we don't care. For myself I know if I had a six-shooter a few of you would bite their teeth, but that's talk as you would like to hear. I am in Texas. You boys appear to have a job to do. Why don't you do it? We won't tell anything and you—"

"The ropes," the leader broke in and the four prisoners were carried to a beam and strung up in a row.

Miller Meets Death Calmly. Just before the rope was placed about his neck Miller calmly removed a diamond from his shirt front and requested that it be sent to his wife in Fort Worth. From his neck he drew out a diamond snuff pin with the request that it be given to Guard McCarthy for his kindness to him.

As soon as the men were dead the mob disappeared. At daylight the bodies of the lynched men were cut down. When the mob removed the men from jail they did not molest Oscar Peeler, age seventeen, who was implicated in the murder, but who turned state's evidence. The boy said that Miller killed Bobbitt and that Jesse West paid Miller to commit the murder.

A coroner's jury has returned the following verdict: "We find that Jim Miller, B. B. Dyrrrell, Joe Allen and Jesse West met their death by being hung by a rope and that the death of each was caused by strangulation produced by the ropes placed about their necks by parties whose names are to the jury unknown."

The county attorney declared that he would investigate the lynching but asserted that there was no evidence of identity and that there probably would be no prosecution.

The Killing of Bobbitt. Bobbitt was killed Feb. 27, 1909. Near dusk he was driving in his wagon a few miles out of Ada. The shot which killed him was fired from ambush. The assassin mounted his horse and rode away. Bobbitt's dead body was found the next day. There was no evidence near the slaying of the murderer's horse, which had been removed a few miles from the crime. Miller and his companions were suspected of knowing who committed the crime.

Two weeks ago the prisoners were placed under arrest at Fort Worth for the murder and brought to Ada for trial. Miller had his preliminary hearing last Friday and was held without bail. The authorities allege that Allen and West hired Miller to kill Bobbitt. Byrrell paying Miller the money.

POLLY of the CIRCUS

By MARGARET MAYO
Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead and Company

"Did you see him?" shouted Strong, who had followed closely upon Elverson's heels.

The little deacon started. Strong was certainly a disturbing factor at times. "Yes, I saw him."

"Well?"

"He—didn't see her." Strong was beside himself with impatience.

"He—just talked to the big one and went out that way," Elverson nodded toward the wagons.

"I guess he ain't gone far," sneered Strong. "He come over to this lot to see her, and he ain't going to give up till he does it. You wait here. I'll take a look round."

Elverson needed no second invitation to wait. He was congratulating himself upon his good fortune when he all but collided with a flying apparition, vanishing in the direction of the main tent. Sophisticated eyes would have seen only a rather stout, round, balding man in pink tights, but Elverson was not sophisticated, and he stared after the flying angel, even unto the forbidden portals of the big top.

He was peeping through the curtains which had fallen behind her and was getting his first glimpse of the great saucy world beyond when one of the clowns dashed from the dressing tent on his way to the ring.

The clown was late. He saw the limp contrails of the deacon, who was three-quarters in the tent. Here was a chance to make a funny entrance. He grabbed the unsuspecting little man from the rear. The terrified deacon struck out blindly in all directions, his black arms and legs moving like cast-iron, but the clown held him firmly by the back and thrust him headforemost into the tent.

Strong returned almost immediately from his unsuccessful search for the pastor. He looked about the lot for Elverson.

"Hey, there, Elverson!" he called lustily. There was no response.

"Now, we'll get to it," grumbled Strong. He disappeared quickly around the corner of the dressing tent, resolved to keep a sharp lookout for Douglas.

Elverson was thrust from the tent door after, spitting and snarling and much discomfited, by the laughing performers who followed him. His knees almost gave way beneath him when Barker came out of the ring, snapping his long black whip.

"Get out of here, you bloke!" roared Barker, and Elverson "got."

No one had dared to tell the groom that Polly was not to ride tonight, so Bingo was brought out as usual when their "turn" approached.

"Take him back, Tom," Polly called from the entrance when she learned Bingo was waiting, and bring Barberian. "I'm not going on tonight. I'm sick."

"That was the second time today that Bingo had been led away without going into the ring. Something in his big, wondering eyes made Polly follow him and apologize. He was very proud, was Bingo, and very conscientious. He felt uneasy when he saw the other horses going to their work without him.

"Never mind, Bingo," she said, patting his great, arched neck; "we'll show 'em tomorrow." He rubbed his snout against her cheek. "We'll make them all up again. Barker says our act's no good—that I've let down. But it's not your fault, Bingo. I've not been fair to you. I'll give you a chance tomorrow. You wait. He'll never say it again, Bingo, never again!"

Polly had nothing more to do, tonight except to get into her street clothes. The wagons would soon be moving away. For a moment she glanced at the dark church steeple; then she turned to go inside the tent. A sharp, familiar voice stopped her.

"Polly?"

She turned quickly. She could not answer. Douglas came toward her. He gazed at her in amazement. She drew her cape about her slightly changed figure. She seemed older to him, more unapproachable with her hair heaped high and sparkling with jewels.

She found strength at last to open her lips, but still no sound came from them. She and the pastor looked at each other strangely, like spirits newly met from far apart worlds. She, too, thought her companion changed. He was older; the circles beneath his eyes were deeper; the look in their depths more grave.

"We were such close neighbors to-day—I rather thought you'd call," he whispered. He was uncertain what he was saying. It did not matter—he was there with her.

"When you're in a circus there isn't much time for calling."

"That's why I've come to call on you." They might have been shepherd and sheepdog on a May day, yodeling for the halting way in which the words came.

"You're all right?" he went on. "You're happy?"

"Yes, very," she said. Her eyes were downcast.

He did not believe her. The effort in her voice, her drawn white face, belied her words. How could he get the truth from her?

"Did you say you might not want to see me?"

She started.

"Has Jim been talking to you?"

Was Report That Emperor Had Swallowed a Fishbone.

Vienna, April 20.—A private dispatch from Corfu said that Emperor William was seriously ill as a result of swallowing a fishbone. The local newspapers issued extra editions and the rumor caused great uneasiness.

The police at once started an investigation of the source of the report, which quickly was discovered to be quite without foundation and nothing more than a boresome rumor.

BIG OFFER MADE BY SMUGGLERS.

They Want to Pay $260,000 to Avoid Exposure.

COLLECTOR LOEB SAYS MAY

Valuable Parisian Gowns, Traced To Their Makers in France and Their Purchasers in the United States, Confiscated by Government.

New York, April 20.—The smuggling syndicate which first offered Collector of the Port Loeb $100,000 to drop the government's investigation of the smuggling of "sleeper" trunks containing $50,000 worth of Paris gowns has increased its offer to $260,000, according to Mr. Loeb.

"The amount now offered the government to drop the investigation and probable prosecution is $260,000," said Collector Loeb. "The amount reports what would be penalties of fully $200,000 above the appraised value of the goods. All offers have been refused. "We want the smugglers."

Collector Loeb stated that he had been approached by several reputable lawyers but refused to reveal the names of the attorneys because he said that even they did not know the identity of the smugglers and had been retained by intermediaries. Collector Loeb's investigation so far shows that the smuggled gowns had been made in Paris by famous designers for many women of exceptional social prominence and wealth in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington and that the reason for offering such a large sum to suppress the investigation was to shield the women from the unpleasant publicity threatened by the coming disclosure.

In Paris it was understood that the treasury department had obtained the names of the makers of the smuggled gowns and the identity of the American women for whom they were made. The collector does not believe that these women knew that their gowns were to be smuggled into the country but had purchased them, like many Americans buy other goods abroad, with the understanding that they were to be delivered to them in America "duty paid" or "duty free." This was the purchaser of all customs employees. Collector Loeb will sell the seized gowns at public auction next month and will employ dressmakers and models to display them.

THREE DROWN IN SQUALL

Editor, His Mistress and Little Son Are the Victims.

Danvers, Mass., April 20.—By the collision of a canoe in Middleton pond Victor Dargis, automobile editor of the Boston Traveler, and Mrs. Ernest Norton, wife of the cashier of the Merchants National bank of Boston, and her infant son were drowned. Mr. Norton was rescued.

The Nortons had a summer cottage on the shore of the pond and, according to their custom, took advantage of Patriots day to visit the property. Victor Dargis, a close friend, was their guest.

Paddling across the pond a heavy chunder squall broke, turning the usually placid water into a choppy sea and upsetting their craft. Matthew M. Merritt saw the mishap and, plunging into the pond, encountered Mr. Norton. By the time he was assisted ashore the others had disappeared.

WILL BE OUR FASTEST SHIP

Torpedo Boat Destroyer Smith, Named For Civil War Hero, Is Launched.

Philadelphia, April 20.—A little vessel, which will be, when she is completed, the fastest ship in the United States navy, was launched here today. She is the torpedo boat destroyer Smith, the first of a new type. She is expected to have greater speed and a wider steaming radius than any other destroyer on the naval list.

The Smith is named after Lieutenant Joseph B. Smith, who was in command of the warship Congress when that vessel was sunk in Hampton Roads by the Confederate ironclad Virginia, March 8, 1862. Lieutenant Smith was killed in the action. Mrs. Edward A. Richardson of Brookline, Mass., a relative of Lieutenant Smith, acted as sponsor at the naming of the little vessel when she slid off the ways.

HONOR BASEBALL'S FATHER.

Monument to the Late Henry Chadwick Unveiled in Brooklyn.

New York, April 20.—In the presence of baseball men of high and low degree and others interested in the national game the monument to the late Henry Chadwick, the "father of baseball," was unveiled today in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn.

Today is the first anniversary of Mr. Chadwick's death. In the greater portion of his life of eighty-four years he devoted much time to advancing the interests of baseball. He was a newspaper writer and was looked upon by many persons as the final authority in the decision of questions relating to the early history of the game.

The committee in charge of the monument consisted of Charles W. Murphy of Chicago, George R. Dwyer of Boston and Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn. The monument was designed by Miss Florence S. Richter, daughter of the editor of Sporting Life.

PRESIDENT GOES TO GAME.

Shares Modest Bag of Peanuts With Sunny Jim.

Washington, April 20.—President Taft went out to the baseball game, saw Washington walloped 8 to 4 by the Boston American leaguers, was initiated into the mysteries of the "split ball" and shared a five-cent bag of peanuts with Vice President Sherman, who sat in the box next to him.

The Washington players were so rattled because of the presence of the president and vice president that they made many mistakes.

No one in Washington can recall today just when it was that a president of the United States last attended a ball game in this city. With all of his love for outdoor life and sports, Mr. Roosevelt did not go within the ball grounds during his seven years at the White House.

He has pushed seven ordinary needles into his abdomen and one is just below his heart, so close that the flowing was perforated. He is in a critical condition and is suffering intense agony.

BERGER KNOCKS OUT BELLY YOURALL

Dusky Fighter Well Known Here Has His Light Put Out in the Fifth Round.

A left swing to the jaw in the closing seconds of the fifth round of the Berger-Yourall bout before the Nonpareil A. C. on the North Side, Pittsburgh, last night for the time being ended whatever pugilistic aspirations the dusky-hued Yourall may have. Yourall is well known in Conneltsville, having pulled off several scraps here.

From the top of the going in the first round Berger kept fighting all the way with the negro gamely taking his punishment and once or twice putting one over that seemed to stagger the white boy. With the exception of the seventh round, which was an even break, the fight was all Berger's, the negro nearly meeting his finish in the third, the going only saving him.

When the fifth round opened Yourall was just fighting and that was all, making futile attempts to slay off the inevitable. Berger seemed to be getting stronger all the time and kept hammering at the black boy's stomach and jaw. These repeated attacks began to tell and with but a few seconds before the end of the round Berger got his chance. The youth with the German name steadied himself and then drove a terrific left wallop to the negro's jaw. The lights began to fade and Yourall's interest in the things about him came to end.

WRIGHT-METZLER Co.

IT will soon be time to leave off the overcoat. That suit that has served you so well through the long winter is hardly fit for close daylight inspection. There'll have to be a new suit purchased before you can lay aside the overcoat with any degree of satisfaction and if a fellow wears an overcoat much longer they'll say "it's just to cover his old suit." So it's up to a lot of us to skirmish around and buy some new Spring Togs.

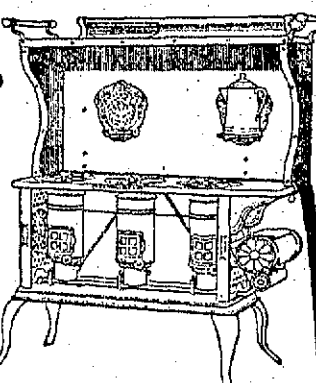

THERE isn't much time left for looking, but you don't require so very much time for your suit is already for you here. Perfect in style, faultless in tailoring, and every fabric authentic in coloring, weave and design. We've prepared handsomely in anticipation of your "hurry needs" when the warm Spring sunshine demands the "laying away" of the overcoat. There's a "shine" on the old suit that won't rub off. It reflects the Spring sunshine all too noticeably. It will have to go with the overcoat and the better dressed class of men are going to choose its successor here. Correct style is more important in the Spring and Summer months than at any other season. It is open to closest inspection because it is your outer garb through these seasons, you want to look spic and span, your very best. There's nothing makes a man feel better than correctly designed, perfect fitting clothes. That's the only kind you'll find here. Our standards are very high, most men hereabouts, know this to be true.

THESE clothes at $15.00 are designed as carefully and made as perfectly as those we offer at much higher prices. The difference being in fabric quality. They're shown in plain black and blue, and an almost endless variety of fancy weaves and designs. Included under this price are conservative models for the man of modest tastes, and there's others so radical in their "make-up" that they cannot but meet the requirements of those who effect the most extreme of "College styles." Fifteen dollars is a popular price and made doubly popular by the values we present at this figure. There's hardly a man that has not "read up" on styles, so you'll know when we show you these models how true to fashion's demands $15 have these clothes been made.

WE direct attention to the display of trunks, bags and suit cases now being made by us. Correctly designed luggage that will be a credit to you where ever you roam. Further than the standing it gives you to take good baggage with you into a strange land. This luggage of ours is faultlessly made. It will withstand the roughest sort of handling. It is "quality" at a very nominal price. Suits cases priced from $1.50 to $12.50; grips from $2.00 to $20.00, and trunks from $4.50 to $42.00. The friends you go to visit are going to "look you over," remember that. It's human nature. They judge your success in life by the way you look, and luggage is no small part of your "make-up" away from home.
